

Personal Services Waivers on State Price Agreements

Price agreements for Delivery Services have been approved for waiver of Personal Services review. This approval is valid only for the individual price agreements and “valid through” dates as listed below. It is no longer necessary for department HR Administrators to list these particular services within their internal department waivers. Waiver of personal services review has been noted on each of these price agreements. DHR will continue to monitor state price agreements for services to determine the appropriateness of an overall statewide waiver. An announcement will be issued as new waivers are established.

The price agreements with DHL and FedEx that are scheduled to expire in July will be extended for 60 days after the expiration date. The personal services waiver will remain in effect during that extension period. Currently, new contracts are in the process of being re-bid. Once the new contracts are executed a new waiver will be issued. Please visit the DHR website for updates on waivers related to State price agreements.
